2. Data Protection

i. Processing, storing, archiving and deleting personal data: Guidance

- Personal data and Al-Sadiq school records about pupils are confidential to the child. The law allows the information to be shared appropriately within the professional working of the school to enable Al-Sadiq school to make the best educational provision for the child. Moreover, the law permits such information to be shared with other educational establishments when pupils change schools;
- Al-Sadiq school will ensure that ICT systems are set up so that the existence of protected files is hidden from unauthorised users and that users will be assigned a clearance that will determine which files are accessible to them. Access to protected data will be controlled according to the role of the user. Members of staff will not, as a matter of course, be granted access to the whole management information system;
- All users with high level access will use strong passwords which is changed regularly. User passwords are never shared;

- Data on staff is sensitive information and confidential to the individual, and is shared, where appropriate, at the discretion of the Head Teacher and with the knowledge, and if possible the agreement of the staff member concerned;
- Employment records form part of a staff member's permanent record. Because there are specific legislative issues connected with these, such records are retained by Al-Sadiq school;
- Interview records, CV's and application forms for unsuccessful applicants are retained by Al-Sadiq school;
- All formal complaints made to the Proprietors of Al-Sadiq school, the Head Teacher will be kept for at least seven years in confidential files, with any documents on the outcome of such complaints. Individuals concerned in such complaints may have access to such files subject to data protection and to legal professional privilege in the event of a court case.

ii. Accessing personal data: Guidance

- Any child can request access to her own data. The request is not charged and does not have to be in writing. The Head Teacher will judge whether the request is in the child's best interests, and that the child will understand the information provided. They may also wish to consider whether the request has been made under coercion;
- A parent/ Carer can request access to or a copy of their child's school records and other information held about their child. The request must be made in writing. There is no charge for such requests on behalf of the child, but there may be a charge for photocopying records. This is at the discretion of the Head Teacher and is detailed in guidance available from the Information Commissioner. The Head Teacher will check, if a request for information is made by a parent, that no other legal obstruction (for example, a court order limiting an individual's exercise of parental responsibility) is in force;
- Parents/ cares should note that all rights under the Data Protection Act to do with information about their child rest with the child as soon as they are old enough to understand these rights. This will vary from one child to another, but, as a broad guide, most children will have a sufficient understanding by the age of 12. Parents/ Carers are encouraged to discuss and explain any request for information with their child if they are aged 12 or over;

- Al-Sadiq school has introduced an on-line portal to enhance communication between the school and parents/ carers, the limited access is username and password protected ensuring secure remote access to the learning platform;
- Separately from the Data Protection Act, The Education (Pupil Information) (England) Regulations 2005 provide a pupil's parent (regardless of the age of the pupil) with the right to view, or to have a copy of, their child's educational record at the school. Parents/ Carers who wish to exercise this right must apply to the school in writing, for educational records (unlike other personal data) access is provided within 15 school days;
- Staff can request access to their own records at no charge, but the request must be made in writing. The member of staff has the right to see their own records, and to ask for copies of the records. There is no charge for copies of records;
- Al-Sadiq school abides by the law which requires that all requests for personal information are dealt with within 40 days of receipt except requests for educational records. All requests will be acknowledged in writing on receipt, and access to records will be arranged as soon as possible. If awaiting third party consents, the school will arrange access to those documents already available, and notify the individual that other documents may be made available later;
- In all cases, should third party information (information about another individual) be included in the information the Head Teacher will aim to obtain permission to show this information to the applicant, with the exception of information provided by another member of school staff which is exempt from a requirement for third party consents. If third party permission is not obtained, the Proprietors of Al-Sadiq school will consider whether the information can still be released;
- Personal data should always be of direct relevance to the person requesting the information. A document discussing more general concerns may not be defined as personal data;
- From 1st January 2005, when the Freedom of Information Act came into force, a request for personal information can include unstructured as well as structured records – for example, letters, emails etc. not kept within an individual's personal files, or filed by their name, but still directly relevant to them. If these would form part of a wider record, these will be filed within structured records as a matter of course to avoid excessive administrative work. These can be requested from Al-Sadiq school if sufficient information is provided to identify them;

- Anyone who requests to see their personal data has the right to question the accuracy of matters of fact within the data, and to ask to have inaccurate information deleted or changed. They may also question opinions, and their comments will be recorded, but opinions need not be deleted or changed as a part of this process;
- Al-Sadiq school will document all requests for personal information with details of who dealt with the request, what information was provided and when, and any outcomes (letter requesting changes etc.) This will enable staff to deal with a complaint if one is made in relation to the request.
